GNA acted as QS and CDM-Co-ordinator on the refurbishment of a TA Centre in Nottingham.

Due to excessive ground settlement in this location much of the structure was seriously damaged, especially the concrete ground floors which were badly cracked and dangerously distorted.

The challenge for the design team and contractor was to find a cost effective solution to save the building from demolition.

The answer was to remove the floors and install a piling system within the building to support the foundations and new floors.

Other works included an entrance extension, layout alterations, renewal of services, and general refurbishment.
